(Reminders and regrets that linger between yearnings and havent panned out yet) may never grow to know enough to promote a present flow . . . Yet, we must always know that lifes a garden and time and love is what we should be willing to sow . . . Oh yea! . . . Lets flow - beats so slow so minds churn like tornadoes blow - Bless your crew like Dorothy, the lion, tin man, and the scarecrow . . . You know !?! The greatest gift has always been . . . the moment when . . . the minds momentum has met all those prevailing reasons for lifes seasons - Say Winter, Spring, Summer and Fall . . . Say that youll not only stand after a fall - but youll stand tall like Romans 8:30 asks could you answer the call . . . Say that youll try to finally understand that youve always been in demand - Like the Little Red Caboose that could because a maintained mind is ones best retained fan . . . Say that you could only experiment with the good that the mind has spent - Thoughtfully sharing mental worth not meant to pay the mind rent. Present knowledge . . . (Re-kindling the known thats grown enough to clone) may never know enough to perpetuate a future flow . . . Socrates decreed: To know, is to know that you know nothing. That is the meaning of true knowledge . . . So, can we rely on the greatest teacher in the form of life - better than any partnership of husband and wife? The one thatll last like a final period in lifes class - teaching about the highs and inevitable low thatll eventually enlighten a dull mind to glow. Can we admit that what we know is all we know to float our lifes boat on a row? . . . Can we admit that even when the price is right - A penny for our thoughts is like insights based upon a limited sight? Theres always humility in recognizing the futility of some aspects of reality . . . Knowledge knows to strengthen the call thats clarion to support the humanitarian and egalitarian. Future knowledge (Foresight thatll forever fight for a future flight) may never know enough to promise an eternal flow . . . Einstein declared: The true sign of intelligence is not knowledge but imagination. Like only the before-hand knowledge thatll continue to flow enroute for the imagination to always speak about . . . Like the kind of knowledge thatll always hint to prevent sour experiences from spoiling sweet scents . . . Like the knowledge thatll paint a vivid image of the before seen via a spiritual T.V. screen . . . Like the knowledge thatll imagine with the right intention to always mention the justifiable and definable as something thats reliable to create the incredible . . . Like the knowledge base thatll support any personal and professional case to reach for a redefined first place to embrace in potentials life race . . .
