

LSU Spirit, in the Mounds

LSU Spirit, in the Mounds is the ninth novel in the series. The Sci-Fi Adventures of Dr. Kenneth Messenger: The Parallel Universe Series LSU Spirit, in the Mounds is a humorous romp with Dr. Messenger, from the LSU campus to the Angola State Penitentiary and over to the Stennis Space Center. Messenger is fascinated by the eerie events centered around Native American Indian mounds. Early European explorers never observed the Indians actually constructing the 6,000 year old mounds and there was a plethora of rumors about them, which focused on alien visitors and ghostly apparitions. Messengers girl friend, Coma, learned of the deep meaning of the twin eagle feathers and she struggled to fathom Kens Indian mound obsession. In Kens adventure, he befriends an old LSU Anthropology Professor, who has an uncanny relationship with an ancient Choctaw tribal elder. Messenger is puzzled by the meaning of predestination, orbs, life eternal and love. Will a neutron blaster be capable of destroying the eggs of doom that are about to hatch inside the mounds? Can he avert the Apocalypse of the Mounds? What does immortality have to do with any of it? LSU Spirit, in the Mounds is a non-stop turn of events, interspersed with strange characters and their antics. Again, be prepared for a shocker of an ending!
