

The Sapphire Key

Fourteen year-old Aria is always looking for adventure, and just by skipping stones in a river, she enters the biggest one of her life, through a magical portal to a land of medieval myth. Meeting up with an elf and a streetwise city-boy, they travel across Daleri, with an evil mysterious wraith on their trail. Over wolf-infested mountains and through shadowed forests, with enemies at every turn, the journey is an adventure in itself. But though every encounter seems it might be their last, it is nothing compared to the dangers that await them in the Black Valley... Emily Sherwood lives in sunny Northern California with her family. When she can, she rides horses and enjoys swimming and kayaking. Her curiosity and sense of adventure have provided her with many great experiences to fuel The Sapphire Key, her first published work. As a young writer, she is delighted that her hopes of being a published author are finally coming true, after the two years that it took to finish The Sapphire Key.
